

FUND YOUR PHD

WHO WE ARE

The Department of Resource Economics and Environmental Sociology (REES) is ranked #1 in Canada and #18 in the world in research output compared to peer institutions in agricultural and resource economics. We have placed over 500 masters and PhD graduates in more than 40 countries around the world, with many in leading positions in industry, government and post secondary educational institutions.

FUNDING DETAILS

REES funds doctoral assistantships at about $25,000/year¹. The department has an additional amount of $40,000¹ to allocate to incoming, excellent² doctoral students in the first year of study. Applications will be reviewed as soon as received.

Current doctoral research topics³ for which funding is available include:

- Renewable Energy
- Sustainable Agriculture
- International Development
- Environmental Valuation

¹ This amount is an approximate and may vary from year to year.

² The department reserves the right to render a final determination on eligibility for funding and interpretation of grad and academic excellence.

³ Eligible research topics may change at anytime without prior notice.

TO APPLY

Visit our website

<https://www.ualberta.ca/graduate-studies/prospective-students/apply-for-admission>

