Transferring to the PhD Program

Criteria:

The Supervisory Committee may recommend that a student be reclassified from the MAg, MEng or MSc course-based to the MSc thesis-based program or, more commonly, from the MSc thesis-based to the PhD program. The MSc thesis-based research project must be restructured in a suitable manner to meet the more independent research goals of a PhD program. In the case of promotion to the PhD program the following conditions must be met:

- the GPA based on courses taken during the student's post graduate program is normally 3.5 or greater;
- the student's Supervisory Committee must provide written notice to the Graduate Program Committee that an MSc thesis-based student has demonstrated the ability to pursue research at a level expected of a PhD student.

Procedure:

The student submits the request to the Graduate Program Committee. Request must include:

- letter from student requesting the transfer to the PhD program;
- student's resume (listing education, employment, publications, poster presentations, awards/scholarships held);
- research proposal;
- letter from supervisory committee supporting the request.

Transfer requests are reviewed twice per year with a deadline date of the first Monday in December (to be reviewed at the December GPC meeting; category change effective January 1) and the first Monday in May (to be reviewed at the May/June GPC meeting; category change effective September 1). Student must complete one full year of their graduate program before requesting a transfer (i.e. students who began their program in January 2007 must wait to April 2008 to apply to transfer; students starting September 2007 must wait until December 2008 to apply to transfer; students beginning their program in January 2008 can apply to transfer in April 2009, etc.). Students can submit their transfer requests at any time throughout the year however the committee will only review/approve the transfers on the dates indicated above. Students requesting the transfer will be required to give a 15 minute power point presentation consisting of a maximum of 10 slides that show (1) overview of the project; (2) MSc objectives, (3) new PhD objectives, (4) why it is important to transfer. Please contact the Graduate Program Administrator (Jody Forslund) if you would like a sample of a previous power point presentation. If approved by the committee, the student and supervisor are informed and the recommendation is forwarded to Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research.
