Travel Award Information

Agricultural, Food and Nutritional Science Graduate Student Travel Award. Value: North America - up to $500; Outside North America - up to $750. Eligibility: Starting April each year, awarded annually to students to assist with expenses incurred in attending a national or international scientific conference to present either a paper or poster related to their research. Candidates must be registered in an MSc or PhD program in the Department of Agricultural, Food and Nutritional Science. MSc graduate students must have completed two terms in their graduate program and PhD graduate students must have completed the Candidacy Exam and all course work before applying for this award. Awarded on the basis of academic excellence and demonstrated research ability. Students normally are eligible once for this award. Award is normally paid out one month prior to travel. Application: Eligible students should submit the AFNS Travel Application Form to the Graduate Program Administrator at least two weeks prior to traveling. For student’s completing their program, the travel award application must be submitted and approved prior to the student’s final exam date for attendance at a conference while the student is registered in a graduate program or up until the convocation date or study permit end date (whichever comes first). Applicants must include an estimate of travel and accommodation costs, the title and an abstract of the paper to be presented and a letter of support from the supervisor describing the conference and its national or international stature and sponsorship.
Application Form for AFNS Graduate Student Travel Award

1. Student Name: ________________________________
2. Student I.D. # ________________________________
3. Name of Conference: __________________________
4. Location: __________________________
6. Dates of Travel: __________________________
7. Nature of Participation: __________________________
8. Please attach copies of Abstract of paper/poster presentation; Letter of Support from Supervisor or Faculty Member; Estimated Cost of Trip (airfare, hotel, registration, meals, ground transportation).
9. Other Travel Awards/Support available to offset your travel expenses:

10. Letter of Acceptance to Conference: ☐ Attached ☐ To Follow

__________________________________________  __________________________
Student's Signature                           Date

__________________________________________  __________________________
Supervisor's Signature                        Date

For Office Use Only

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Conference</th>
<th>Supervisor Letter</th>
<th>Acceptance Letter</th>
<th>GPA</th>
<th>Eligibility Met</th>
<th>Approved</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>North America</td>
<td>Yes</td>
<td>Yes</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Outside North America</td>
<td>No</td>
<td>No</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Agricultural, Food and Nutritional Science Graduate Student Travel Award

Value: North America: Up to $500; Outside North America: Up to $750

Eligibility: Awarded annually to students to assist with expenses incurred in attending a national or international scientific conference to present either a paper or poster related to their research. Candidates must be registered in an MSc or PhD program in the Department of Agricultural, Food and Nutritional Science. MSc graduate students must have completed two terms in their graduate program and PhD graduate students must have completed the Candidacy Exam and all course work before applying for this award. Awarded on the basis of academic excellence and demonstrated research ability. Students are normally eligible once for this award. Award is normally paid out one month prior to travel. Application: Eligible students should submit the AFNS Travel Application Form to the Graduate Program Administrator at least two weeks prior to traveling. For student’s completing their program, the travel award application must be submitted and approved prior to the student’s final exam date for attendance at a conference while the student is registered in a graduate program or up until the convocation date or study permit end date (whichever comes first).