Course Description, Objectives and Expected Learning Outcomes:
Folklore exists in many forms and this course emphasizes the narrative forms of folklore, such as legends, folktales, ballads and other story songs, and online narrative such as fan fiction. The course will examine the nature of folklore and how it came to be collected and studied. It looks at the history of scholarly approaches to folklore. It ends with contemporary folkloric expression, both folklore in new media, and critiques of folklore such as rewritten classical tales.

This course has a community service learning option and, to satisfy that option, students are encouraged to collect stories in their community and to present them back to the community in digital form.
Learning outcomes. At the end of this course, successful students will be able to:

1) Identify examples of folklore in a variety of genres and contexts
2) Describe the difference between an oral narrative, a written narrative, a filmic narrative, and a narrative which appears in digital form
3) Describe major trends in folklore scholarship
4) Analyze contemporary texts to see how they use folklore to respond to contemporary situations and challenges

Texts for reading and discussion will be selected from this book. Additional short readings will be made available on eClass.

Resource texts (recommended, but not required):

Schedule: Topics are listed by week. Most Fridays will be discussion days. Students will discuss the assigned tales or scholarly readings. There will be exercises that will help students understand the nature of the oral text and experiments in oral transmission.

January 7 – what is folklore? Orality, the existence of variants; early collections
January 14 – classic collections: Perrault, Brothers Grimm, collectors in other countries
January 21 – folklore and nationalism; the folktale “canon”
January 28 – classifying folklore, tale types and motifs; structuralism
February 4 – performance studies; psychoanalytical approaches
February 11 – counter-hegemonic approaches
February 18 – break
February 25 – intertextuality and rewriting tales
March 4 – personal narratives and narratives online
March 11 – transmedia and tales
March 18 – preparation for final project
March 25 – student presentations
April 1 – student presentations
April 8 – final project consultations
Grade Distribution (see “Explanatory Notes”):

1) Tale analysis 1: 15%, due January 28
2) Experiment write-up: 10%, due February 11
3) Tale analysis 2: 15%, due March 4
4) Participation: 20%
5) Course project: 40%, divided as follows:
   a) Project proposal: 10%, due March 18
   b) Project oral presentation: 10% (last 2 weeks of class)
   c) Project write-up: 20%, due April 10

Explanatory Notes on Assignments:
1) Tale analysis 1: 2-3 double-spaced pages; students will compare variants of a classic folktale.
2) A transmission experiment will be conducted in lecture. Write up: 1-1½ double spaced pages describing the experiment and analyzing the results.
3) Tale analysis 2: 2-3 double-spaced pages. Option 1: select and apply a classical analytical approach to two tales. Option 2: analyze a modern rewriting or remediation of a tale.
4) Regular attendance in lecture is expected and attendance will be taken at random, meaning that dates on which attendance will be taken will not be announced in advance. Most Fridays will be discussion days. The class will divide into two discussion sections held in two different rooms. Students will discuss the assigned tales or scholarly readings in groups. Each group will then present the results of the discussion. All students in the group are expected to speak and their presentations will be graded.
5a) Project proposal: 1 page double-spaced. Should include a statement of what the student plans to do; a short explanation of the reasons for selecting this topic (why is it important?) a proposed methodology (comparison, or application of a particular analytical approach, or examination of a rewrite or remediation of a tale).
5b) Project oral presentation: 10 minute formal presentation with a Power Point or other visuals
5c) Project write-up: Formal paper, 5-10 double-spaced pages, with proper citations of print, filmic, or other sources.

Required Notes:
Policy about course outlines can be found in the Evaluation Procedures and Grading System of the University Calendar.

Student Responsibilities:

Academic Integrity:
The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour (online at www.governance.ualberta.ca) and avoid any behaviour that could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University.
All students should consult the Academic Integrity website. If you have any questions, ask your instructor.

An instructor or coordinator who is convinced that a student has handed in work that he or she could not possibly reproduce without outside assistance is obliged, out of consideration of fairness to other students, to report the case to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. See the Academic Discipline Process.

Learning and Working Environment:
The Faculty of Arts is committed to ensuring all students; faculty and staff are able to study and work in an environment that is safe and free from discrimination and harassment. It does not tolerate behaviour that undermines that environment. The Department urges anyone who feels that this policy is being violated to:

• Discuss the matter with the person whose behaviour is causing concern; or
• If that discussion is unsatisfactory, or there is concern that direct discussion is inappropriate or threatening, discuss it with the Chair of the Department.

For additional advice or assistance regarding this policy you may contact the Office of the Student Ombuds. Information about the University of Alberta Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures is described in UAPPOL.

Territorial Statement:
“The University of Alberta acknowledges that we are located on Treaty 6 territory, and respects the histories, languages, and cultures of the First Nations, Métis, Inuit, and all First Peoples of Canada, whose presence continues to enrich our vibrant community.” (from the beginning of the Calendar).

University of Alberta Sexual Violence Policy:
The Sexual Violence Policy was approved by GFC in June 2017. It plays a vital role in ensuring a safe and respectful learning and working environment.

As defined in the policy, sexual violence is any sexual act or act of a sexual nature, or act targeting sexuality, whether physical or psychological, committed without consent. Sexual violence is a complex and serious problem in society and on university campuses. Sexual violence can affect individuals of all gender identities, gender expressions, and sexual orientations, as well as those from all ages, abilities, racial, cultural and economic backgrounds. Through this policy, the University of Alberta recognizes its responsibility to reduce sexual violence in the University community. The university aims to do so by fostering a culture of consent and support through education, training and policy. The University recognizes the possible effects of trauma on those who have experienced sexual violence and supports the efforts of individuals to seek support and recover.

To read the policy in more detail, please visit: https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/PoliciesProcedures/Policies/Sexual-Violence-Policy.pdf
Recording of Lectures:
Audio or video recording, digital or otherwise, of lectures, labs, seminars or any other teaching environment by students is allowed only with the prior written consent of the instructor or as a part of an approved accommodation plan. Student or instructor content, digital or otherwise, created and/or used within the context of the course is to be used solely for personal study, and is not to be used or distributed for any other purpose without prior written consent from the content author(s).

Attendance, Absences, and Missed Grade Components:
Regular attendance is essential for optimal performance in any course. In cases of potentially excusable absences due to illness or domestic affliction, notify your instructor by e-mail within two days. Regarding absences that may be excusable and procedures for addressing course components missed as a result, consult sections Attendance and Examinations of the University Calendar. Be aware that unexcused absences will result in partial or total loss of the grade for the “attendance and participation” component(s) of a course, as well as for any assignments that are not handed-in or completed as a result. Deferral of term work is a privilege and not a right; there is no guarantee that a deferral will be granted. Misrepresentation of facts to gain a deferral is a serious breach of the Code of Student Behaviour.

In this course, MLCS 205, students are expected to participate actively in the discussions that take place on Fridays and to attend all lectures, responding to lecture content. As stated above, attendance will be taken at random, meaning that the dates on which attendance is taken will not be announced in advance.

Policy for Late Assignments:
Students who consult in advance with an instructor regarding contingencies preventing the timely completion of an assignment may, at the discretion of the instructor, be granted an extension. Otherwise, a 33%-per-class-day penalty (one third of a grade, e.g. from B+ to B) will be assessed for each subsequent class-day of lateness. All assignments should be handed in on the stated deadline. Late excuses will not be accepted for any reason.”

Disclaimer:
Any typographical errors in this syllabus are subject to change and will be announced in class and posted on eClass.

Student Resources:
The best all-purpose website for student services is: https://www.ualberta.ca/current-students.

Accessibility Resources: (1 – 80 SUB)
The University of Alberta is committed to creating work and learning communities that inspire and enable all people to reach their full potential. Accessibility Resources promotes an accessible, inclusive, and universally designed environment. For general information to register for services visit the Accessibility Resources webpage.

The Academic Success Centre: (1-80 SUB)
The Academic Success Centre offers a variety of workshops on effective study and exam strategies. There are in-person and online sessions available for a modest fee.

The Centre for Writers: (1-42 Assiniboia Hall)
The Centre for Writers offers free one-on-one writing support to students, faculty, and staff. Students can request consultation for a writing project at any stage of development. Instructors can request class visits and presentations.

Health and Wellness Support: There are many health and community services available to current students. For more information visit the Health and Wellness Support webpage.

Office of the Student Ombuds:
The Office of the Student Ombuds offers confidential interviews, advice and support to students facing academic, discipline, interpersonal and financial difficulties.

Grading:
Assessment of the individual course components may be in the form of numerical marks or letter grades. The final letter grade will be based on "a combination of absolute achievement and relative performance in a class" (University Calendar, Evaluation Procedures and Grading System). The University Grading Procedure mandates that "a student’s level of achievement of the goals/outcomes of a course, their grade, and the descriptor of that grade must be aligned" (https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/). The following guidelines have been adopted by the Department of Modern Languages and Cultural Studies:

“MLCS Undergraduate Grading Scale”
