Top Reasons to Choose Augustana:

- Small Class Sizes: With a student-faculty ratio of 16:1, your professors will know your name!
- Residence-Based Education: Programming and activities that happen in residence are considered an important part of each student’s university experience. Every new student is guaranteed a space in residence
- International Opportunities: 1 in 3 of our students take part in an international experience throughout their degree

Where Are We?

Augustana is located at the heart of Alberta in the city of Camrose – a safe, friendly community about one hour southeast of Edmonton (the provincial capital of Alberta) and about three hours east of the Rocky Mountains. Camrose is a thriving university city; its 18,000 residents enjoy a community rich with events in support of the arts, social interests, philanthropy, and athletics. It was also ranked as Canada’s 11th Best Place to Live in 2018!

Our 40-acre campus is just a short walk away from the city centre, a lively downtown core filled with unique shops, restaurants, grocery stores, banks, and medical facilities. Camrose is also the shopping hub for east central Alberta with a large retail district in the city’s west end. The campus is situated in ‘aspen parkland’ terrain, giving our students easy access to a variety of outdoor activities including cross-country running, skiing, and biathlon.

The Augustana Advantage

At the University of Alberta’s Augustana Campus, you can have the best of both worlds! Earn a world-class degree from one of the Top 5 Universities in Canada (Top 100 in the World!) while studying in a welcoming, close-knit campus community that includes students, staff, and professors from across Alberta and around the world.

Augustana has a student population of just over 1,000; our class sizes are small and our professors love to teach. Residence staff organize many activities each year, our fine arts department puts on art shows, plays, and concerts, and our athletic teams are competitive in and outside of Canada.

Augustana students have numerous opportunities for hands-on study experiences in Camrose, throughout Canada, and around the world. Our students research ecosystems in provincial and national parks, help local children learn literacy skills, canoe in the Canadian Arctic, and set off on adventures to places like Cuba, Germany, and India – all for credit.

On this campus, you will find a strong community spirit alongside global outreach.

Are you seeking a unique university experience? In Fall 2017, Augustana implemented an innovative academic calendar designed to maximize high-impact learning opportunities, including group research projects, intense workshops, field experiences, educational travel, and applied work for community organizations and businesses. Our fall and winter semesters were reconfigured to begin with a three-week block followed by an eleven-week session.

Why did we make this change? Because we want to provide exciting learning opportunities that do not fit within the usual semester structure. During the three-week blocks, students take only one course and faculty teach only one course. Without competing academic obligations, students and professors spend more time together and engage in activities that do not fit within traditional 50 or 75-minute classes. During the eleven-week sessions, students take three to four courses instead of five, a more reasonable workload that reduces the normal stresses of university life.

Students have asked: will the new semester rhythm have an impact on our ability to transfer or gain acceptance to professional and graduate programs? After consultation with those who make such decisions, the answer is: no, and instead, admissions committees will be impressed by the diverse and powerful learning experiences students will describe on their resumes.

First-Year Seminars
What do wolves, zombies, and murder have in common? These are a few topics for first-year seminar courses that all new students take during their first September block, along with many additional choices. Every seminar has two key things in common: 1) they are each limited to 25 students; 2) through readings, discussion, writing, and intense engagement with multiple perspectives, students build the skills and confidence needed to be successful at university.

Why Augustana?
Our size and exclusive focus on undergraduate education allows us to be exceptionally responsive to student needs and input. In addition, we were called to action by the University of Alberta to be “a living laboratory for teaching and learning innovation, to the benefit of the entire university.”

STUDENT SERVICES

At Augustana, we pride ourselves on offering a wide variety of services to our students. For example, we provide Student Accessibility Services to students that may require additional support with their education and a Writing Centre that is devoted to helping students improve their writing skills. Other services include an Aboriginal Students Office, international student support, personal counselling, and academic advising. For convenience, many services are located in our newly designed Learning Commons.

SO MANY WAYS TO GET INVOLVED!

Augustana Students’ Association:
The student body voice on campus hosts events throughout the year and manages Augustana’s student clubs.

Augustana Student Clubs:
Academic clubs in History and Science; Athletic clubs such as triathlon, indoor soccer, and swimming; International Cultures Club; EarthWise; language clubs; the Management Society, and more. If you don’t see the club you want, start one!

Campus Chaplaincy:
The chaplaincy community provides opportunities for worship, learning, community building, pastoral care, and multi-faith service.

Choirs:
At Augustana, we offer both audition and non-audition choirs.

Leadership Opportunities:
Augustana focuses on building future leaders through in-class instruction and extracurricular options such as student government, resident assistants, the Campus Visits program, Chaplaincy, and student clubs.

Full-length and one-act plays, plus an improv troupe. Any student can audition for any of our drama productions.

LEARNING BEYOND

International Travel:
Explore exceptional opportunities to learn about other cultures, refine language skills, test classroom theories, perform practical research, and experience a new part of the globe. Nearly a third of Augustana students have studied in places such as China, Costa Rica, Cuba, Germany, Norway, India, New York City, and Italy!

Undergraduate Research:
You will have the opportunity to partner with your professors to conduct research, both for presentation and publication! Learning and growing through your daily encounters with other students focuses on the development of the whole person, which is an essential part of the education that Augustana offers.

We have a great team of professional and student staff that take the time to get to know you and learn how they can help you settle into your new home. As a part of this community and campus life, you will have access to resources for academic, social, and personal support.

STUDENT MEAL PLAN

No need to worry about grocery shopping, cooking, or even doing the dishes! Included in your residence fee is an “all you can eat” meal plan and access to unlimited chocolate milk!

“Having a roommate is an awesome opportunity that enables you to connect on a deeper level with someone on campus. After being assigned a double room, I was later offered a single room which I declined because I didn’t want to miss out on the experiences that having a roommate can and did bring.”

ABORIGINAL STUDENT SUPPORT

The University of Alberta respectfully recognizes its location within Treaty 6 territory.

The percentage of Aboriginal students at Augustana is higher than all other University of Alberta faculties aside from Native Studies. Students from First Nations, Métis, and Inuit backgrounds can access culturally appropriate services and support to meet their emotional, physical, mental, and spiritual needs. A recent addition to campus is the Wahkohtowin Lodge, which is home to the Aboriginal Students Office and an Elders’ Room. It offers a space for students to gather with each other, Elders, and Indigenous community members allowing them to collectively share backgrounds and histories, strengthening an awareness of their common heritage and providing an open learning environment.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Competitive admission means that the initial admission average starts above the final admission average. Evaluation begins with final Grade 11 marks and lowers as the Grade 12 year progresses and updated marks become available. The final admission average will be determined later on in the summer. Last year’s final admission averages can be a good indicator for the current year, but please contact your Admissions Advisor to ask about the most up-to-date admission averages.

Apply early

The earlier you apply, the sooner your application can be processed, which increases your chances of receiving an offer at the earliest possible date. It also means you will hear about scholarship and residence offers sooner.

Your application for admission will be considered based on the earliest indicators of your success. If you are currently in Grade 12, you can apply now using your final Grade 11 grades.
