This document should be used for reference in course planning for application to the Doctor of Chiropractic degree program, Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College. Ultimately students need to check with Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College to confirm their course selection is appropriate for application to their intended program. The information below is correct as of the date on the bottom.

Admission Requirements:
The Doctor of Chiropractic degree program is a limited enrolment program into which the institution will admit only the most qualified applicants annually. The minimum standards for admission to the Doctor of Chiropractic degree program are:

- Three full years of study (minimum of 15 full courses) in a university program or at an institution or institutions recognized at the university level by a provincial or territorial ministry of education, in which the applicant demonstrates a minimum cumulative grade point average (CGPA) of 2.5 on CMCC’s 4.00 scale in post-secondary pre-professional education.
- A successful admissions interview with a minimum interview score as defined by CMCC.
- Successful evaluation of a personal statement.
- English Language Proficiency.

Applicants who apply prior to the completion of the equivalent of three years (15 full courses or 90 credits) of university level study will be assessed for admission on the basis of having completed two full years (10 full courses or 60 credits). If deemed eligible and successful in the application for admission, an offer of admission will be conditional upon the successful completion of the minimum academic requirements before May 31 of the year of registration.

All offers of admission are conditional upon the applicant’s final CGPA on the minimum academic requirements being at or above the CGPA that was calculated to assess admission eligibility upon submission of the application.

Applicants holding a first professional degree in health sciences (ie. MD, DO, DDS, DPM), or a graduate level degree in a related discipline may be considered for Advanced Standing.
