MEET THE TEAM
Role Description

Oversight and advocacy for anything related to Master's Programs in the School of Business.

Giving hugs to students after they cross the stage at convocation.

Interaction with Students

My primary role is to work with departments and other units to ensure our programs are relevant for today's economy. I also spend significant time meeting with alumni and other stakeholders to help promote our brand.

Fun interactions: Handing out scholarships.

Not-so-fun Interactions: Discipline cases and dealing with failing students.

Ideal Saturday Night

Playing on the Xbox or putting together a Lego set with my kids.
Role Description

Provide career coaching and advice to students and develop programs and strategies that help students navigate their careers. Beyond the office, my job description includes professional dog walker/cuddler and semi-professional toddler wrangler.

Interaction with Students

I get to work one-on-one every day with students to provide knowledge-based advice and coaching to support them in their career development. A large part of my role is to help students to discover who they are, their strengths, interests, limitations and other unique qualities so the students are able to effectively communicate this as their personal brand.

I also help students to develop a dynamic and personal job search and networking strategy. Behind the scenes, Paul and I are brainstorming content for career related workshops, orientation, BUS 501 and BUS 504. I am also reading and researching trends in the job market and career development tools that I can use when working with students.

Ideal Saturday Night

Spending time with my family! Cooking something delicious for dinner while enjoying a glass of wine and playing with my son.

BUSINESS, 2-37

CLICK HERE TO LEARN MORE ABOUT JENNA

ROLE DESCRIPTION
The purpose of my role is to support MBA students extracurricular endeavors, promote well-balanced student life, and create a quality engagement experience for students in order to develop impactful alumni.

My major responsibilities include being the Project Manager for MBArk (Orientation), advising student groups, supporting UAlberta MBA representation at Case Competitions, providing guidance for student events, and helping students make connections across campus.

INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS
I support current students with their MBA lives outside of the classroom. The majority of my role is student facing, which means I’m always open for appointments about which clubs students should look at joining, how to get connected to resources on campus, where to look for extra support, or anything else that may come up.

When I’m not meeting with students I’m most likely planning events, collecting data or networking across campus.

IDEAL SATURDAY NIGHT
Spending time with my family or teaching at the dance studio.
As the Executive Assistant for the Master's Programs Office, I provide senior level support to the management team including communication and calendar management for the Associate Dean. In addition, I serve as the primary point of contact for internal and external stakeholders and ensure the completion of projects and initiatives.

I am often the first point of contact for the students in the Master's Programs. I help connect them with the proper people and help to coordinate special events for them, including logistics, booking of space, catering arrangements, permits, managing guest lists and invitations, marketing plans and communications, budget oversight, invoices and billings, travel arrangements and itineraries.

Playing board games with friends or working on my blog with my puppy, Oakley, by my side.
ROLE DESCRIPTION

As a Employer Relationship Advisor, I bridge the gap between employers and students. My main responsibility is to help students find rewarding summer internships and post-graduate employment.

As a Career Advisor, I have the opportunity to work with students one on one in ensuring only the best application packages are sent to employers. Overall, I provide industry insight to students about recruitment best practices.

INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS

As a member of the Careers Team within the Master's Programs Office, our main focus is to help students achieve success. I meet with students daily to assist them in their job search and help them create tailored application packages that they can feel confident about. I also help with orientation, BUS 501, BUS 504 and any other student initiatives organized by the Master's Programs Office.

IDEAL SATURDAY NIGHT

As an ISFJ, I like to live a busy lifestyle with time to rest and relax. My weekends are a time for me to catch up with family and friends. I usually spend my Saturday nights at home with my husband and our cat and dog or with friends visiting over dinner and a movie.

ROLE DESCRIPTION
I lead the Career Management Centre team by determining strategic goals and objectives and develop action plans for execution of projects to enhance career development and learning, employer/alumni relations and coaching/teaching best practices.

INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS
Students are the best and I love meeting students at orientation, when instructing in BUS 501 & 504, through the mentorship program, coaching them, or running into them in the hallway. It is impressive to see and hear about their transformation over the course of their studies.

IDEAL SATURDAY NIGHT
After a day of cross-country skiing or hiking, we have friends over and tell stories.

ROLE DESCRIPTION

As the Director, Executive Graduate Programs, I am responsible for developing and implementing a strategic plan to attract, select and enroll high caliber students into our graduate programs. I also lead the program delivery and administration of our executive graduate programs, ensuring that the curriculum and quality of education experiences are in line with our goal of maximizing student value in the program. One very cool aspect of my job is the ability to travel internationally in order to meet with brilliant students from across the world to speak about our phenomenal programs, and to lead coordination or our Executive MBA international study tour!

INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS

As a member of our Master's Programs Office Admissions Committee, I have the opportunity to connect throughout the year with prospective students not only locally, but also across Canada and other countries around the world. It is incredibly inspiring to hear about the goals and ambitions of candidates seeking to start their MBA or Master of Accounting journeys, and to watch their dreams materialize years later. Don't hesitate to reach out at any point if you are considering a Business Master's Program!

IDEAL SATURDAY NIGHT

My ideal Saturday night is making a special dinner with my family and friends, and playing super competitive board games ALL night long!

BUSINESS, 2-31B

CLICK HERE TO LEARN MORE ABOUT PAUL

ROLE DESCRIPTION

As one of two career coaches to full-time MBA students I get to help students with anything career related. We help with many things from personal brand development, career path planning and beyond. For part-time MBA students, I can help with anything they really need from a career perspective, whether it is helping with strategy to move up within the organization or making a move to another company or industry and what that will look like.

INTERACTION WITH STUDENTS

I work a lot with all students. I am very happy to have back-to-back meetings on a daily basis with all different students. I love the variety of what I get to meet with students about. Behind the scenes that students may not see is work on new business topics and how we can integrate that into the education we provide to students from a career perspective. An example of this is a storytelling class we delivered to first-year students this year. I also love creating new resume/cover letter templates on an annual basis. I believe that these documents are so important in finding a job, I think you can really stand out with great application documents.

IDEAL SATURDAY NIGHT

Obviously playing golf on a Saturday night is a little tough, so typically, I am playing with my kids, or watching a movie.
Role Description

I provide admission and academic services to our Master of Accounting (MAcc) program, Master of Financial Management (MFM) China programs, and MBA China programs. My major responsibilities include:
- Interviewing candidates for four China programs
- Maintaining student records and files
- Scheduling courses and coordinating program logistics

Interaction with Students

I interact with students mostly over email and WeChat. I try my best to ensure a positive academic experience for students throughout their program.
