

Come take a ride on an autonomous vehicle!

The University of Alberta's Centre for Smart Transportation invites you to take a ride on an autonomous driverless vehicle.

This is part of an ongoing research project in conjunction with the City of Edmonton to better understand the performance of autonomous vehicles in winter conditions, to understand how the vehicle relates to infrastructure around it, and to test the the operation of the Automated Shuttle in a secure and reliable environment.

This event is FREE but space is limited. Reserve your seat now!
