Guest Speaker: Dr. Terri Givens

We are excited to have Dr. Terri Givens come to the University of Alberta to conduct a workshop titled: "Towards an Inclusive Workplace: Being a change agent from wherever you are." This session is intended to take a "deeper dive" into workplace inclusion.

Dr. Givens will share lessons she has learned throughout her career about implementing EDI strategies and initiatives in the academy. At every stage, from her days as a student, to her first appointment as a junior faculty member, and finally as the Provost in a small, private, tuition dependent school, Dr. Givens has spoken up, taken action, and made a difference. Often it was one small step at a time, sometimes it was developing and implementing institution-wide initiatives, always it was with grit and determination.

Terri Givens is a Professor of Political Science, Former Vice Provost at University of Texas at Austin and Former Provost at Menlo College. She is currently the Executive Director of the Edgemakers Institute and a Consultant for educational technology companies.

Event Details: November 7, 4pm - 5:30pm, Faculty Club
