The Hon. Justice William Stevenson of the Supreme Court of Canada has maintained an active involvement with the Faculty of Law on an almost continuous basis since he first enrolled as a student in 1954. He played a major role in the establishment of the Alberta Law Review in 1955 and served as Editor-in-Chief from 1955 to 1957. He has remained a staunch supporter of the Review ever since, demonstrating his belief in the importance of student scholarship by establishing the William Morrow Essay Prize and the William A. Stevenson Endowment Fund. He taught for many years as a sessional instructor, specialising in civil procedure. He was a full-time member of the Faculty in 1969-1970. Justice Stevenson was instrumental in establishing a professional responsibility course, one of the first of its kind in Canada.

Justice Stevenson’s support for the Alberta Law Review was recognized in 1999 with the naming of the house where its office is located as The Hon. W. A. Stevenson Alberta Law Review House.
