MED 566 – Systematic Review

Content varies from year to year. Topics are announced prior to each registration period. The student’s transcript will carry a title descriptive of the content. May be repeated. May contain alternate delivery sections; refer to the Fees Payment Guide in the University Regulations and Information for Students section of the Calendar. Students may not take MED 566 for credit if credit has already been received for SPH 566 of the same topic.

The proposed course MED 566 is a cross-listing of the already established course SPH 566 with the School of Public Health.

*Please contact the Instructor for course availability

Prerequisites: Consent of the Department

Instructor: Dr. Sebastian Straube