

What is Healing?

A Reading/Writing/Reflection Group

... sponsored by the Arts & Humanities in Health & Medicine Program

ARTS & HUMANITIES in HEALTH & MEDICINE Program FoMD, UAlberta

Who? Interested university and clinical faculty members, instructors, and graduate students, as well as medical students, health sciences students and medical residents.

What? A chance to read, write and discuss literature addressing the theme of “healing.” We use that term broadly. There will be facilitated discussions and opportunities for writing. Bring yourself, and we supply the snacks and journals.

Why? Last year’s Interdisciplinary Reading Group was so successful we want to do it again. Reflection is a valuable tool for individuals in any profession, and honing the skills of deep reading will benefit arts and science students alike. When is the last time an English scholar sat next to a medical doctor, with a common objective?

Where? Convenient gathering space at the University of Alberta Hospital
(contact organizers for details - see below)

When? 4 meetings in total, all from 6:30-8 pm
*Nov 6
*December 4
*January 16
*April 9

How? If you are interested in participating in this reading group, AND able to make the meetings, send us an email:

Dorothy Woodman, PhD (Instructor in EFS) dwoodman@ualberta.ca; OR

Tamar Rubin, MD (RIII in Pediatrics)
rubin@ualberta.ca.

Deadline for Responses: October 26th, 2013.