Become a ZenXMed Contributor

ZenXMed is looking for motivated medical students and residents to help us as Contributing Members to strengthen our medical community by building a cutting-edge platform that is made for physicians by physicians. We recognize that physicians in the U.S. (but increasingly in Canada) feel less empowered in a climate of increased government, administrative, and insurance-based controls on the way care is delivered. We believe that the physician-patient relationship is the key to healthcare delivery. Using cutting edge tools including data-visualization, machine learning, and precision medicine, we aim to restore the balance. Find more information here.
