Welcome to the University of Alberta—a leader in teaching, research and community service.

Wherever I travel in Alberta and beyond, I find overwhelming evidence of the University of Alberta's success in teaching, research, and community service. These successes are clearly evident in the contributions the university makes to the people, the cultural life, and the economy of Alberta. We have good reason to be proud of the accomplishments of our alumni, students, staff, and faculty; and of the wide and beneficial impact of the activities of the university locally, nationally, and internationally.

These successes cause me to reflect on the wisdom of our first Premier, Alexander Cameron Rutherford, and his colleagues who, in spite of all the short run imperatives of the day, insisted that among the first acts of the new legislature would be an act to create the University of Alberta. In doing so, they set in motion the building of an institution that would yield lifelong benefits to all Albertans, including the education of the leaders of tomorrow. With the vision of a province that not only recognized but valued access to postsecondary education for its citizens, they built an educational foundation that has proven itself integral in developing the knowledge-based economy that is critical to our province today.

The Province of Alberta will celebrate its 100th anniversary in 2005. The vision our forebearers had and the investments they made have provided a solid foundation for Alberta. We should not forget the simple wisdom of those times. Your decision to consider studies at the University of Alberta tells me the wisdom of Premier Rutherford has not been lost on you.

Sincerely,

Roderick D Fraser, PhD
President

Important Notice

By the act of registering for a course or a course of study, each student at the University of Alberta agrees to observe and be bound by the terms of this notice, and the terms, conditions, academic standards, rules, regulations, policies, and codes of behavior contained or referenced in the Calendar. Therefore, it is the student's responsibility to make himself or herself aware of the contents of the Calendar.

The Calendar sets forth the intention of the University at the time the Calendar was prepared. While the University of Alberta makes reasonable efforts to ensure that the content of the Calendar is accurate, the University of Alberta reserves the right, subject to the authority of General Faculties Council, to make whatever changes it considers necessary to the information referenced in the Calendar or referenced in other documents relating to admission and registration including, but is not limited to, the elimination of or changes to courses, programs, organizational structure, tuition and fees, entrance standards, academic standards, degree requirements, University policies, regulations, and rules. All of the changes referred to above may be made by the University without notice to students or prospective students, although the University of Alberta shall make reasonable efforts to provide notice of such changes to students as soon as practicable. The University is not liable to anyone who may suffer any loss or damages of any type arising from such changes including any loss or damages arising from the interruption of academic activities.

The University of Alberta is a publicly supported, nondenominational, coeducational institution. It is authorized to grant undergraduate and graduate degrees, certificates and diplomas under the provisions of the Universities Act of the Province of Alberta, the Revised Statutes of Alberta, 1980, Chapter U-5 with amendments in force as of February 11, 1999. The University was established under the University Act (Alberta, 1906) and is governed by the Post-Secondary Learning Act (Alberta, 2003). The University is a member of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada and the Association of Commonwealth Universities.
