Are you supervising people in your research group?  Please click to RSVP
Date: November 22, 2018
Time: 12:05 - 12:50 (over lunch)
Place: Education North 2 115

Nearly 20% of postdocs are supervising staff and many more supervise undergraduate and graduate students in their research environments. How do the new Alberta labour laws affect you? If there is an incident, will you be held legally responsible? Can you say 'no' to supervising people? Is there training available to you? How does sexual misconduct fit into safety?

If you are unsure about the answers to any of these questions and are formally or informally supervising people, this quick lunch hour session is highly recommended.
