Thank You

We recognize and celebrate Faculty of Science donors. Your gifts make a difference by helping students realize their potential through scholarships, by ensuring they are learning from the best mentors—including distinguished lecture series and by supporting frontier research.

Many of you have also welcomed the opportunity to support our new Science Creativity and Innovation Fund, SCIF. We recognize that the world is changing and to continue to lead we must quickly meet and build on emerging opportunities. Thank you for your commitment to making a difference.

The Quaecumque Vera Honour Society is named after the motto of the University of Alberta, which means “whatsoever things are true”. Membership in this Society is limited to living individuals who have advised the University that they have provided for the University in their estate plan. Qualifying gifts for membership in the Quaecumque Vera Honour Society include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Life Insurance and other life insurance products
- Bequests by Will
- Charitable Trusts
- Charitable Gift Annuities
- Gifts of Residual Interest
- Gifts of income generating property
