

What 3rd-Year students should know

Want students at this level to apply concepts, not just know them.

Want students to be able to ask themselves "Why?".

Want students to be able to explain concepts in their own words.

Want students to be able to troubleshoot problems.

Want students to be able to ask themselves, "How?", such as "How does this concept work and how can it be applied?".