PRESIDENT’S REPORT

TO THE GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL

The first few months of the Winter 2018 semester have been eventful. Across the university we continue to work towards our strategic goals, from building a diverse and inclusive community to sustaining our work and our people.

I have several updates to share with you. Of particular note:

- Provost Steve Dew recently announced the creation of a new Vice-Provost, Indigenous Initiatives position
- We have now launched the search for a new Peter Lougheed Leadership College principal
- A Professional Development Working Group has convened to lead Objective 15: enriching learning and professional development opportunities for staff, faculty, and post-doctoral fellows
- The federal government’s 2018 budget, tabled February 27, has taken a major step toward answering the needs of Canada’s academic community

Finally, we recently published a new progress overview on the For the Public Good website—I encourage you to read through it for additional updates.
BUILD

New Vice-Provost Position: Indigenous Initiatives

Provost Steve Dew recently announced that the University of Alberta is creating a Vice-Provost, Indigenous Initiatives position. The new position will help to further the U of A’s respectful, meaningful, and sustainable response to the TRC’s Calls to Action by improving coordination across campuses, and between campuses and external communities. Chris Andersen (Dean, Faculty of Native Studies) and Shana Dion (Assistant Dean, First Nations, Métis and Inuit Students), will lead Indigenous Initiatives while the position profile is prepared and the search conducted.

KEY TALKING POINT:
We strive to build and an inclusive learning and research environment where Indigenous and non-Indigenous students and scholars can move together on the path to Reconciliation both on and off our campuses.

Workshops in Building Capacity for Reconciliation

Augustana Campus celebrates the completion of the first Workshops in Building Capacity for Reconciliation—a new co-curricular certificate program—this month.

The program is open to Augustana students, staff, and faculty, as well as members of the larger Camrose and University of Alberta communities. It focuses on Augustana’s participation in reconciliation at the post-secondary level, and also strives to build participants’ personal capacities to engage in reconciliation.

CASE Awards

The U of A tells its diversity of stories through many different mediums: Folio and The Quad, New Trail, numerous faculty and alumni publications, and others. Several U of A publications were recognized at the 2018 CASE District VIII Awards, and the following received CASE Gold Awards:

- The Quad (Electronic & Digital Media)
- New Trail magazine (Magazine)
- New Trail magazine, Spring 2017 “Truth First” issue (Magazine Special Issues)
- Folio, Grace under fire (Feature Writing)
- A Hard Walk, New Trail Spring 2017 “Truth First” issue (Platinum, Best Articles of the Year)
EXPERIENCE

Peter Lougheed Leadership College

At General Faculties Council on January 29, I presented a set of recommendations for the future vision of the PLLC, and of leadership initiatives more broadly at the U of A. As you will recall, these recommendations were developed by a working group, and stemmed from Peter McKinnon’s report on the college. Thank you for the feedback you provided—we have now launched the search for a new PLLC principal, whose role will be guided by the working group’s recommendations.

Canada Learning Initiative in China (CLIC)

The University of Alberta-led CLIC program, which creates opportunities for Canadian students study in China, received new support from the federal government in December 2017.

Since CLIC launched in February 2016, the program has helped 400 Canadian students to study overseas. Following a memorandum of understanding between Canada’s foreign affairs department and China’s education ministry, the federal government pledged $4.1 million over five years to support study in China.

KEY TALKING POINT:

By providing our students with experiences that link them to their futures—whether at home or abroad—we will facilitate their success both within the curriculum, and beyond it.

New Program: Fashion Business Management

The Faculty of Agricultural, Life and Environmental Sciences and the Alberta School of Business have collaborated to launch a new degree program: Fashion Business Management. The only program of its kind in western Canada, the new degree combines business management principles with textile and clothing design, production, distribution, and consumption. Students can enroll in the four-year program beginning in September, 2018.
EXCEL

Faculty of Kinesiology, Sport, and Recreation

On January 1 of 2018, the Faculty of Physical Education and Recreation officially changed its name to the Faculty of Kinesiology, Sport, and Recreation. The new name better reflects the development of the faculty’s scope, its leadership and excellence across multiple disciplines, and the education its students are ultimately attaining.

Professional Development Working Group

Just before the winter break, Wayne Patterson (AVP, Human Resource Services) announced the launch of an Objective 15 Working Group. Sponsored by both the Provost and the Vice-President (Finance and Administration), the working group is charged with developing a plan to enrich learning and professional development opportunities for staff, faculty, and postdoctoral fellows at the U of A. Over the next year, the group will consult and engage university leaders, faculty, staff, post-doctoral fellows, service providers of professional development and other key stakeholders to achieve this objective.

Excellence in Teaching, Learning, and Research

2018 QS University Rankings
In the recent 2018 QS World University Rankings by Subject, The U of A stands among the world’s top 100 universities in 20 of the 48 subjects ranked. The results include seventh in the world for sports-related subjects, 14th in mining engineering, and 18th in nursing.

Great Supervisor Awards
As part of a larger initiative to assure high-quality supervision and mentorship for graduate students and post-doctoral fellows, the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research launched the Great Supervisor Awards. The inaugural awards recognized 35 outstanding role models.

KEY TALKING POINT:
When we excel as researchers, teachers, and students, we empower a culture that values curiosity, critical thinking, diversity, hard work, and ambition—all vital to advancing knowledge and inciting change for the public good.
International Week is the largest annual extracurricular educational event at the U of A. Each year, it encourages our students to become global citizens by engaging with some of the world’s most pressing issues.

I-Week inspires conversations between our students, staff, and faculty—but it also brings voices and perspectives from outside of the university onto our campuses. It exposes our students to novel views on global issues, and encourages them to seek collaborative solutions to shared challenges.

Running from January 29 through February 3, I-Week 2018 explored how the arts can contribute to social and environmental justice.

U of A’s United Way Campaign

On January 31, our community came together on North Campus to celebrate the impact of a very successful 2017 United Way campaign. With final donations and matching funds now tallied, we raised a total of $691,064.

I want to thank Marion Haggarty-France and Lesley Cormack for co-chairing the revitalized campaign, as well as all of the GFC members who supported and contributed to our efforts. Our United Way committee has already begun planning for 2018—I look forward to building on the achievements of this year’s campaign.

Change for Climate Global Mayors’ Summit

On March 4, I was invited to deliver the keynote address at the City of Edmonton’s event: Change for Climate Global Mayors’ Summit. The summit preceded the CitiesIPCC: Cities and Climate Change Science Conference which Edmonton hosted from March 5 to 7—both aimed to set the research agenda for climate change and climate action in cities.

Several international mayors, as well as leaders from global city-oriented organizations like C40 and the Global Covenant of Mayors, attended the summit. The keynote provided a rare opportunity to connect with these groups, and to advocate for strong partnerships with research-intensive universities as we seek climate solutions.

Several U of A researchers participated in the CitiesIPCC conference.
Tracking Institutional Progress

Metrics and Measures
In addition to the 12 performance measures that we initially set to track our progress on strategic goals, we have published an extended list which includes another nine metrics. The additional metrics help us to meet a variety of reporting requirements for different stakeholder groups.

Progress Overview
As previously mentioned, we are providing progress overviews three times per year: in September, January, and June. The overview for September 2017 to January 2018 is now available on the For the Public Good Reporting page.

2018 Federal Budget
The federal government tabled Budget 2018 on February 27. Since the release of the Fundamental Science Review, Canada’s academic research community has mobilized to reinforce the report’s message that Canadian researchers need greater access to unfettered research funding for basic scientific research. Budget 2018 takes a major step toward answering the needs of our academic community.

A few highlights include:
- $1.22B over five years for the Tri-Council Agencies (CIHR, SSHRC, and NSERC)
- $210M over five years for the Canada Research Chairs program
- $763M over five years for the Canada Foundation for Innovation

I have provided a more detailed response on The Quad.

U of A Budget Planning
Internally, we have also been working to strengthen the university’s financial position as we finalize the budget for 2018–2019. All faculties and units have now outlined their priorities and prepared budgets based on the planning assumptions we set out in early fall. The U of A’s 2018–2019 budget is currently moving through governance, and goes to the Board of Governors for final approval on March 16, 2018.
Sustainability at the U of A

In January, the Provost and the Vice-President (Facilities and Operations) took initial steps to restructure the university’s approach to sustainability to facilitate a stronger academic focus—a key objective in For the Public Good.

An Academic Team for Sustainability has convened to lead development of a new initiative that will take an interdisciplinary and cross-faculty approach to better integrate sustainability into the U of A’s scholarship and research. The initiative is scheduled to launch on July 1, 2018.

In the interim, major sustainability initiatives will continue—Office of Sustainability staff are working under transitional leadership while the new academic structure is developed. Well-established sustainability programs will be integrated into operational units within Facilities and Operations where possible.

We will keep the U of A community informed as we progress towards this new direction for sustainability at the university.

Senior Leadership Transitions

In early February, I announced the successful conclusion of the search for a new Vice-President (Research). I look forward to welcoming Matthias Ruth—currently the director of the School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs and professor in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering at Northeastern University in Boston—to the U of A for a five-year term beginning May 1, 2018.

Thank you for your continued dedication to the University of Alberta.

Yours sincerely,

David H. Turpin, CM, LLD, FRSC
President and Vice-Chancellor

The federal government has introduced legislation that will make it legal to buy and use cannabis without a prescription. By this summer Albertans 18 and older will be able to purchase cannabis, cannabis oil and cannabis seeds from storefront locations and online. (It will not be legal to purchase cannabis “edibles,” which are food products made with cannabis, during the first year of legalization.)

In addition to ensuring compliance with all laws, the university must develop policies guiding such things as consumption, growing and sales of cannabis on its properties and in association with its activities.

A working group is now developing recommendations to inform these policies. The working group will provide the recommendations to senior leadership by April, and will be guided by the following considerations:

1. The safety of all members of the university community
2. The academic and personal development of students
3. The ability of staff to work to their potential
4. The university’s stated values
5. The reputation of the University of Alberta as a leading post-secondary institution in Alberta and Canada

This work includes identifying key internal and external stakeholders, establishing connections with other Alberta PSEs to discuss concerns and best practices, engaging a wider cross section of university departments as well as the student and staff associations, and surveying the university community in an effort to understand community expectations regarding cannabis and the University of Alberta.

The working group finds intersections with several of the institution's highest level risks, especially: safety; student success; faculty and staff; reputation. Other risk areas: leadership and change; relationships with stakeholders; research enterprise.
Some of the key considerations identified to date include:

- Impairment in the workplace, especially for “safety sensitive” positions
- Duty to accommodate for prescribed use as it affects staff and students
- Recreational use and sale of cannabis on university properties
- The effects of secondhand smoke and vapour on non-users, including minors
- Enforcement of cannabis legislation and university policies
- The university’s public health responsibilities and opportunities
- Research and research funding
- Residential living environment, including growing plants
- International students and Canadian norms

Related university policy

Human Resources Services has identified a policy gap as it pertains to substance use in the workplace (alcohol and other legal or illegal substances). Work on that policy is underway.

The primary means of consuming cannabis during the first year of legalization is expected to be by smoking and vaping. The university does not have a policy on smoking and vaping tobacco products, however, so cannabis cannot be added to an existing policy. It may be necessary to develop a policy or policies to address all forms of smoking and vaping.

Residence Services will establish rules regarding growing and use of cannabis in its facilities and include those rules in its lease agreements.

Consulting with the staff associations

The working group, through HRS, will meet with the staff associations shortly to identify their concerns and/or interest regarding the issue.

Participation of students

Although the Working Group includes university administration only, students are members of two other groups established to manage this process: the SU and GSA are included in the Advisory Group, a group of some 25 units and faculties whose role is to bring their concerns to the attention of the Working Group; both student associations are also members of the Cannabis Consultation Committee, which is managing the community consultation process.

Proposed Legislation

Government of Canada

In the 2015 Speech from the Throne, the Government of Canada committed to introducing legislation to legalize, regulate and restrict access to cannabis. The Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada, Minister of Public Safety and Emergency Preparedness, and Minister of Health were mandated by the Prime Minister to work towards the legalization and regulation of cannabis.

In April 2017, the Government of Canada introduced the Cannabis Act. It was passed by the House of Commons in November 2017 and is currently being debated at second reading in the Senate. The Senate adopted a motion on February 15, 2018 to allow four Senate committees to study aspects of the bill while second reading debate is underway. These committees must report back to the Senate by May 1, 2018.1

The Act seeks to2:

- restrict youth access to cannabis
- protect young people from promotion or enticements to use cannabis
- deter and reduce criminal activity by imposing serious criminal penalties for those breaking the law, especially those who import, export or provide cannabis to youth
- protect public health through strict product safety and quality requirements
- reduce the burden on the criminal justice system
- provide for the legal production of cannabis to reduce illegal activities
- allow adults to possess and access regulated, quality controlled legal cannabis
- enhance public awareness of the health risks associated with cannabis

PROPOSED GUIDELINES

Bill C-45 contains the following proposed guidelines:3

- Adults are allowed to possess up to 30 grams of legally produced cannabis;
- Adults may grow up to four plants per household;
- The age of possession is 18 (although the provinces and territories may increase the age).
- Additionally, Bill C-45;
  - Establishes a regulatory regime for the licensed production of cannabis overseen by the federal government;
  - Enables a regulatory regime for the distribution and sale of cannabis;
  - Establishes new provisions to address drug-impaired driving;

• Defines the role of provincial and territorial governments.

GOVERNMENT OF ALBERTA

The government of Alberta has developed two pieces of legislation in response to the legalization of recreational cannabis. Bill-26, an Act to Control and Regulate Cannabis and Bill-29, an Act to Reduce Cannabis and Alcohol Impaired Driving

Bill-26, An Act to Control and Regulate Cannabis

• Establishes the Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission (AGLC) as the authority for oversight of recreational cannabis, including compliance and retail licensing;
• Allows for the retail distribution of cannabis at private retailers throughout the province;
• Enables online sales through publicly-owned retailers;
• Restricts the purchase, possession and consumption of recreational cannabis by minors;
• Prohibits the consumption of cannabis in vehicles and imposes restrictions on the transportation of cannabis in vehicles;
• Restricts the public consumption of cannabis in Alberta in the following areas;
  o in any area or place where that person is prohibited from smoking under the Tobacco and Smoking Reduction Act or any other Act or the bylaws of a municipality, o on any hospital property, school property or child care facility property,
  o in or within a prescribed distance from: 4
    • a playground,
    • a sports or playing field,
    • a skateboard or bicycle park,
    • a zoo,
    • an outdoor theatre,
    • an outdoor pool or splash pad, or
    • any other area or place that is prescribed or otherwise described in the regulations.

*In accordance with the Gaming and Liquor Amendment Regulation, the prescribed distance has been set at 5 metres.

Furthermore, the Gaming, Liquor and Cannabis Act, requires that cannabis stores be separated a minimum of 100 meters from: 5

• Provincial health care facilities,
• Buildings containing a school
• Land that is designated as school reserve or municipal and school reserve.

Bill-29, An Act to Reduce Cannabis and Alcohol Impaired Driving

- Bill 29, an Act to Reduce Cannabis and Alcohol Impaired Driving updates the Traffic Safety Act to reflect the legalization of recreational cannabis and to ensure that sanctions for drug-impaired driving would be aligned with those already in place for alcohol-impaired drivers.

City of Edmonton

The City is currently contemplating the issues within its jurisdiction, including:

- Distances smoking and cannabis sale is allowed from schools, playgrounds and other places where children gather
- Rules governing use of cannabis in other public spaces
- Zoning and licensing

Draft Online Cannabis Survey of University of Alberta Staff and Students

Introduction
The federal government has introduced legislation that will make it legal to buy and use cannabis without a prescription. By this summer Albertans 18 and older will be able to purchase cannabis, cannabis oil and cannabis seeds from storefront locations and online. (It will not be legal to purchase cannabis “edibles,” which are food products made with cannabis, during the first year of legalization.)

In addition to ensuring compliance with all laws, the University of Alberta must develop policies guiding such things as consumption, growing and sales of cannabis on its properties and in association with its activities. A working group of university representatives is now developing recommendations to inform these policies. The working group will provide the recommendations to senior leadership this spring, and will be guided by the following considerations:

1. The safety of all members of the university community
2. The academic and personal development of students
3. The ability of staff to work to their potential
4. The university’s stated values
5. The reputation of the University of Alberta as a leading post-secondary institution in Alberta and Canada

The university is evaluating policy decisions concerning the following:

- Consumption: The primary means of consumption during the first year of legalization will be through smoking and vaping (see glossary below). The university has it within its control to decide whether and where this can occur on its properties and during university activities.

- Growing of Cannabis: The law will permit adults to grow four plants in a personal residence. The university operates numerous residences on its properties where cannabis could legally be grown.

- Sale and distribution: The university hosts numerous food and retail shops on its properties and hosts markets in some buildings. The university may be permitted to host sellers of cannabis products (although at this time it is not certain whether legislation will permit sales on campus).

- Use of Cannabis in the Workplace: University policy must address how the institution responds in the event an employee is thought to be using or under the influence of cannabis.

- Education & Health Promotion: The university is well positioned to provide education and health promotion for all members of the university community as well as the broader community.

- Enforcement: Regardless of what the university decides regarding smoking and vaping on its properties, there will be locations, such as inside buildings, in vehicles and near hospitals, where smoking and vaping will be against the law. As well, there are limits to the amount of cannabis an individual can have in their possession. The university will be required to develop enforcement policies.

- Research: The university will need to ensure it is compliant with the laws regarding holding and storing cannabis involved in research.
Guide to terms

- Cannabis: Cannabis is a broad term used to describe the various products derived from the leaves, flowers and resins of the Cannabis sativa and Cannabis indica plants, or hybrids of the two. These products exist in various forms and are used for different purposes (e.g. medical, recreational, industrial).

- Cannabis vs. marijuana: The federal government has adopted the term “cannabis” to describe cannabis products in general, as opposed to the commonly-used term “marijuana” (which only describes parts of the plant).

- Cannabinoids: One of a class of chemical compounds that act on cannabinoid receptors in animals and humans, cannabinoids can be naturally extracted from cannabis plants. Over 104 different cannabinoids have been identified, with varied potencies depending on the plant or product. The most commonly-known cannabinoids are THC and CBD:
  - THC (delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol): has therapeutic effects and is the compound primarily responsible for the psychoactive effects of cannabis
  - CBD (cannabidiol): has therapeutic but no psychoactive effects

- "Using" cannabis: consuming cannabis in its dry form or when mixed or processed into another product such as an edible, a concentrate, including hashish, a liquid, lotion, or other product for non-medical purposes.

- Non-medical purposes: consuming cannabis for purposes other than medical use (e.g., for enjoyment, leisure, amusement), socially, for spiritual, lifestyle and other, similar uses.

- Cannabis can be used in many ways, including:
  - Smoke (e.g., a joint, blunt, spliff, pipe, or bong)
  - Vaporize with a vaporizer (non-portable)
  - Vaporize with a “vape” pen or e-cigarette (portable)
  - Eat in food (e.g., brownies, cakes, cookies or candy)
  - Drink (e.g., tea, juice, soda, alcohol, other drinks)
  - Dab (e.g., including hot knife/nail)
  - Other (e.g., tinctures/drops under tongue, applied directly to skin in a lotion)

- Public Health: In the context of this survey, public health refers to the health of the members of the university community, especially as it is monitored, regulated and promoted by the university.

| Timeline/Implementation Date | Once finalized, the terms of reference will come forward to GFC for approval on April 30. Upon approval of the terms of reference and transition plan, Nominating Committee will begin its transition to a free standing committee on May 1, 2018. The transition will be complete and a free standing Nominating Committee in place on July 1, 2018. |

| Supplementary Notes and context | A new free standing Nominating Committee would be governed by Principles of Committee Composition including no more than 2 members per faculty and the restriction that members can sit on no more than 3 standing committees. The proposed terms of reference will include the delegated authority to replenish Nominating Committee and the Executive Committee. The Replenishment Committee is currently responsible for the replenishment of the GFC Executive/Nominating Committee. The committee would also be charged with responsibility for encouraging, identifying and securing a diverse group of individuals who are prepared to be active and engaged members of GFC committees. |

(excerpt from ad hoc report)

“FREE-STANDING NOMINATING COMMITTEE / DISBANDING OF REPLENISHMENT COMMITTEE

Currently the Nominating Committee is a sub-committee of the Executive
Item No. 5

Committee. Its members include the elected members and ex-officio student members of the Executive Committee and a non-academic staff member of GFC. While this structure has been effective in the past, members of the Nominating Committee believe their effectiveness as a committee is constrained by the fact that its role in managing the nomination process is an additional duty rather than their primary focus. Some GFC members have also noted that having the Executive Committee be responsible for nominations contributes to perceptions of concentration of authority and lack of transparency.

The ad hoc committee is recommending the establishment of a free-standing Nominating Committee charged with responsibility for encouraging, identifying, and securing a diverse group of individuals who are prepared to be active and engaged members of GFC committees. Once the new Nominating Committee is established, the existing Replenishment Committee – which currently replenishes the Nominating Committee – could be disbanded.

A move in this direction will need to be implemented in stages to ensure time to transition from the old to the new committee structure, and to review and revise processes and timelines for replenishment and nomination.

Recommendation: THAT a free-standing Nominating Committee be established

Recommendation: THAT the Replenishment Committee remain in place in the interim and be disbanded when no longer needed

Housing for Students who Parent

White Paper

February 2018
Introduction

The University of Alberta has provided family housing as part of its residence system since 1967. The facilities are located at Michener Park and have provided a suburban residence option for graduate students raising families. As the residents have increasingly expressed concern with the state of the residence while the facility has also become very costly to maintain, the time is right to evaluate the future of housing for students who parent. UAlberta intends to launch a fulsome consultation process seeking clarity around the housing needs of students who parent and the role of the institution in meeting those needs.

Background

Michener Park is one of the oldest residences owned and operated by UAlberta and carries a significant and growing maintenance burden. Michener Park was never meant to be running during its fiftieth year, even with regular, consistent maintenance. Students are not satisfied with the accommodations and have been vocal about these issues to their peers, potential students, and applicants putting UAlberta’s reputation at risk.

Ancillary Services is commensurately challenged by operating and maintaining Michener Park to a standard that meets student satisfaction while also generating sufficient rental revenue to remain economically viable.

The Problem - What Residents Tell Us

The March 2017 report of the Residence Life Task Force identified maintenance and residence amenities as the two single-highest areas of concern across the residence system. This was particularly acute for graduate students. Moreover, 89 percent of graduate students reported problems with maintenance and repair of their residence. These indicators, along with many others are substantiated by residents’ contributions to the annual Educational Benchmark Survey. For at least ten years the tempo and volume of complaints at Michener Park have increased.

The Problem - Physical Infrastructure

Michener Park has exceeded its life expectancy with more frequent reports of poor suite conditions that risk overwhelming maintenance resources. The cost to address essential maintenance has increased by 36.4% over the last five years and by over 100 percent in the last ten. In 2017, maintenance costs were $2.05 million or 46.8 percent of the total expenses incurred at Michener Park.
More than 3,000 individual maintenance requests are anticipated this year; an increase of 57 percent over the five-year average. Despite representing only 8.5 percent of the total housing inventory, maintenance requests at Michener Park represent approximately 22 percent of the total volume across the residence system.

Michener Park carries a deferred maintenance liability of approximately $25 million while the Facility Condition Index (FCI), a measure used to provide a benchmark to compare the relative condition of a group of facilities, averaged 0.33. By comparison, the entire portfolio of Ancillary Services building assets carries an average FCI of 0.15 when anything greater than 0.1 is considered poor.

The Problem - Insufficient Revenue

In the past five years, revenues at Michener Park have increased by 1.05 percent. This is due to a combination of rate increases approved by the Board of Governors being largely offset by a decrease in occupancy. Although demand for family housing has historically been robust, today’s vacancy rate of 12 percent is attributed to many units being removed from use. The operating deficit for 2016/17 of $375,000 was covered by the reserve fund for Michener Park, which has less than $380,000 remaining. This fund is forecasted to be exhausted in 2017/18.

The Opportunity

To inform a decision around the future of family housing at UAlberta, it is imperative to understand the reality for students who parent. Only by identifying and understanding their challenges and expectations, can UAlberta make an informed decision on future housing developments.

A consultative process to identify the needs of students who parent will also provide an opportunity to assess data collected from the RLTF survey. For example, in addition to that identified above, residents expressed concern with a lack of adequate transportation from Michener Park to North Campus and safety and security at Michener Park.

3.7 percent of graduate students self-identified as Indigenous in the 2016 Canadian Graduate and Professional Student Survey. This is a higher proportion than reflected in UAlberta sources and, thus, it is very likely that more can be done to encourage and support First Nation, Métis, and Inuit students applicants while providing student residence opportunities.

The Consultation

A working group is being formed to assess the current and future needs of students with families and the reasonable steps UAlberta can take in meeting these needs. At a minimum, it is expected this consultation will seek answers to the following questions:

- What is the reality and potential numbers of students who parent?
- What is the current and future housing needs of students who parent?
- To what degree is UAlberta meeting those needs today?
- What are the obligations of UAlberta as it relates to residence housing for students who parent?
- What level of investment is reasonable for students who parent?

Utilizing the Student Participation Protocol, the current residents of Michener Park will have an important voice in this consultative process. Additionally, the consultation will capture the perspectives of the surrounding community, a broader range of UAlberta students, and alumni. Finally, to ensure the broadest spectrum of input is considered, engagement will also include:

- University of Alberta Residence Oversight Committee
- Aboriginal Student Services Centre
- Faculty of Native Studies
- Michener Park Community Association
- City of Edmonton
